Tuesday Boat Maintenance Day

Boat Maintenance days will recommence this Tuesday commencing at 9:00am.

On the 'to do' list this Tuesday is painting some sideboards for the Club pontoon and checking the Vagabonds in the boat yard for rain water etc. The yard needs a bit of a tidy to make it a little easier for grass mowing.

There will be morning tea from 10:30am and members with a boating interest are most welcome and encouraged to attend and enjoy a good chin wag with a cuppa and cake.

Next Vagabond Sailing Session - Sunday 23 October

The next Vagabond Sailing day will be on Sunday 23 October with a muster and rigging time from 7:30am and on-water time of 8:30am. The session will be focussed on introducing new members with some sailing experience to the rigging and sailing our Club Vagabond sailing dinghies and a social race.

Sunset Opera at the Bay

The Organising Committee would like to extend special thanks to the wonderful Vicky MacDonald, along with her expert advice and time. Vicky provided all the lighting and additional sound equipment for the evening. A huge thank you to Faye Bengé who has written a very comprehensive review of our recent Opera event for all to enjoy.

Faye's report

La Nina put a damper on the original plans to host the inaugural 'Sunset Opera at the Bay' outside, but it did not phase the hard-working organisers, with a quick change of layout, a theatre was set up inside the club house. This hugely anticipated concert was officially included as part of the "Tide: Redlands Coast Islands Festival" and was a truly lovely evening of Opera and light Jazz.

Upon arriving at the Club house, we were treated to a complimentary glass of Sparkling wine then set about to claim the best seats available. In the audience were spotted at least two Phantoms, with some masquerade masks also adorned. Dinner was served at 6pm, arranged by Maree Lallensack and her tireless crew in the kitchen, cooking over 100 delicious meals followed by homemade sweet treats. The team behind the bar were kept busy with lashings of Chandon and Prosecco being served, a nice selection, fitting for the evening.

Soprano Songstress Lelia-Maree Rider opened the show, with hauntingly beautiful and familiar titles sung throughout the evening such as O Mio Babbino Caro, Ave Maria and I Dreamed a Dream from Les Misérables, each one sending goosebumps through the enchanted audience. In part two, we were entertained by the supremely talented Dr Eve Newsome, with solo pieces, on the English Horn followed by her signature Oboe. Eve then took charge of the piano and was joined by her husband David Wellman, playing Misty and other light jazz tunes as well as belting out a favourite from the Chairman of the Board, Frank Sinatra. Lelia-Maree finished off the show in part three, rounding out this perfectly magical evening.

This evening was one of several different events held at the Club this year, and none of this can be possible without the hard work of all the organisers and volunteers, in the lead up and during the event itself. We are grateful to each one of you, thank you.
